The Day in Review

SUMMARY

Friday's trade brought in £6,174 across 79 tables, averaging £78 per table and 6.9 items each. From the Coast led the categories at 12.6% of revenue, with Roast Leg of Lamb the top seller at 10 covers. The top five products made up only 8.6% of revenue, showing sales spread fairly evenly across the menu. Cash accounted for 74.3% of takings, and no discounts were given.

Tables turned quickly, open for 29 minutes on average from sitting to settling up, suggesting a brisk, efficient service rather than a lingering one. Three items were cancelled or sent back, worth £51, a small 0.8% of orders, which points to a kitchen and floor running smoothly under pressure, particularly through the lunch peak at midday when 41 tables opened within the hour.

Tomorrow, look at staffing around the 12:00 rush specifically, since that hour clearly carries the heaviest load and any strain will show there first. With such a wide product spread, consider whether the top sellers are being suggested enough at the table, more focus on push items like the lamb could lift average spend without adding pressure on service.

Kitchen Timings

NONE

There are no kitchen timings for this day. No orders reached the kitchen screen between the opening and closing of this period, so nothing was accepted, prepared or completed. The figures below are therefore all zero, and are shown rather than omitted so this reads as a quiet kitchen and not as a missing section.
